Cold Weather Authorization to Ship PARASITE-S

PARASITE-S (Syndel’s pharmaceutical grade formalin) should not be allowed to reach temperatures below 40°F. Temperatures below 40°F may result in damage to the product.

Regional weather conditions vary greatly, and Syndel advises all formalin users arrange for shipping prior to the cold weather season when possible.

Syndel makes no guarantees, expressed or otherwise, that temperature-sensitive PARASITE-S can be shipped risk free when temperatures are below 40°F. It is up to the customer to determine if their local weather conditions are appropriate for shipping PARASITE-S.

A few points to consider when requesting Parasite-S to be shipped during colder months:

- Parasite S may be shipped from Washington, Oregon, or Tennessee depending on the destination.
- During cold months, please arrange shipping early in the week to allow delivery before the weekend.
- An insulated pallet cover can be purchased for added protection.
- Heated shipping for drums and totes may be available upon request for an additional fee. Please inquire if this is available in your area.
- During cold months, a ‘Cold Weather Authorization Form’ must be signed and returned to us prior to shipping Parasite-S.

By signing this form, you agree to accept responsibility for shipments of PARASITE-S requested during the cold weather season. Syndel will not be responsible for any shipping delays or potential damage during transit of PARASITE-S during cold months. Customers agree to accept the condition of delivered PARASITE-S when ordering during the date range mentioned above.
